

Introduction

Hook/Lead: (catch your reader's attention)

Background information: (give a couple of sentences explaining the situation)

Thesis statement: (claim and reasons)

Claim:

Reasons: (at least 3, maybe more)

1.

2.

3.

More?:

Body Paragraph 1

Topic sentence: (transition and reason 1)

Evidence, Explanation, and Conclusion (Need enough information for 5-6 sentences):

Body Paragraph 2

Topic sentence: (transition and reason 2)

Evidence, Explanation, and Conclusion (Need enough information for 5-6 sentences):

Body Paragraph 3

Topic sentence: (transition and reason 3)

Evidence, Explanation, and Conclusion (Need enough information for 5-6 sentences):

If you had more than 3 reasons, write paragraphs for those as well . . .

Counterargument paragraph

Is there a counterargument? _____

What is it?

What is your response to it? Why is your conclusion more correct?

Conclusion Paragraph

Transition and restate claim:

Solution/Call to action:
