

Name: _____

Period: _____

Writing Notebook Expectations

1. You need to write one complete page (at least two entries) each week in your writing notebook.
2. One page of writing will be due at the end of each week. (Usually, Friday, but could change from time to time.)
3. Entries must be written in blue or black ink or pencil. (Other colors are difficult to read.)
4. You need to write the term, week, page number, and due date in the top right hand corner of each page.
5. Write the title of your piece at the top of each page.
6. You need to write neatly. Points will not be given for unreadable entries.
7. Each page should be a complete page, margin to margin and top to bottom. Do not leave "Swiss cheese holes" in your writing. Do not skip lines except between entries.
8. Writing will be generated from Scribble prompts given by your teacher. Scribbles are mandatory, so if you are absent, go to our class website to find out the Scribbles for the week.
9. You must submit original work. Writing copied from notes for other classes, a previous entry, songs, or another student will be considered a violation of the plagiarism policy and will be considered cheating.
10. Each weekly assignment is worth 20 points. You will grade yourself, but the teacher will make corrections if needed.

Name: _____

Period: _____

Writing Notebook Expectations

1. You need to write one complete page (at least two entries) each week in your writing notebook.
2. One page will be due at the end of each week. (Usually, Friday, but could change from time to time.)
3. Entries must be written in blue or black ink or pencil. (Other colors are difficult to read.)
4. You need to write the term, week, page number, and due date in the top right hand corner of each page.
5. Write the title of your piece at the top of each page.
6. You need to write neatly. Points will not be given for unreadable entries.
7. Each page should be a complete page, margin to margin and top to bottom. Do not leave "Swiss cheese holes" in your writing. Do not skip lines except between entries.
8. Writing will be generated from Scribble prompts given by your teacher. Scribbles are mandatory, so if you are absent, go to our class website to find out the Scribbles for the week.
9. You must submit original work. Writing copied from notes for other classes, a previous entry, songs, or another student will be considered a violation of the plagiarism policy and will be considered cheating.
10. Each weekly assignment is worth 20 points. You will grade yourself, but the teacher will make corrections if needed.